Drawings

Color photographs and color drawings are acceptable only for examination purposes unless a petition filed under 37 CFR 1.84(a)(2) is granted permitting their use as acceptable drawings. In the event that applicant wishes to use the drawings currently on file as acceptable drawings, a petition must be filed for acceptance of the color photographs or color drawings as acceptable drawings. Any such petition must be accompanied by the appropriate fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(h), three sets of color drawings or color photographs, as appropriate, and, unless already present, an amendment to include the following language as the first paragraph of the brief description of the drawings section of the specification:

The patent or application file contains at least one drawing executed in color. Copies of this patent or patent application publication with color drawing(s) will be provided by the Office upon request and payment of the necessary fee.

Color photographs will be accepted if the conditions for accepting color drawings have been satisfied.

Figures 4A-4F are photograph drawings. Appropriate correction is requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 15, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by The Japanese reference (JP 2164412).

The Japanese reference teaches a filter protection apparatus comprising a frame (1) having a shape of a filter securing part for securing an air filter (50), an attaching part for attaching the frame to the filter securing part (2a, 2b, 48), and a protection part (52, 54) which is coupled on the inner surface of the frame to occupy the inner space with a plurality of minute holes through which air passes for protecting the filter (50) from damage. The Japanese reference further teaches the protection part formed on Aluminum (see Abstract), and the filter protection net (52, 54) having a plurality of holes through which filtered air passes (see Fig. 3).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 3-14 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over The Japanese reference (JP 2164412), as applied supra, in view of Northcut (6,554,880 B1).

Claims 3-14 and 16 call for a moving member disposed on the frame and the attaching part is coupled to the moving member to cause the attaching part to move together with the moving member. Northcut discloses a moving member (50, 10) mounted on the frame in engagement with the elongated channels (2) (see details of Fig. 3 and col. 4, lines 1-12), and persons of ordinary skill in the art will understand that the relative size and number of moving members can be any of a wide selection, and the size and position of other components may vary depending on the particular application and range of use desired (col. 4, lines 52-58). It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide a moving member as taught by Northcut in the filter apparatus of the Japanese reference in order to necessitate more frequent rearrangement of the filter cells to achieve optimal filtration while maintaining easy to install and replace a filter.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Lange et al (6,451,079 B1) discloses a pocket filter with frames.
